—WORLD—

touching hearts, changing lives

make the best career decision of your life

You've had first-hand experience that Slimming World helps people achieve amazing things. You're blown away by the results that Food Optimising brings. You've felt the warmth and the motivation of our unique group support system that is IMAGE Therapy – and the joy that comes when you achieve your weight loss dreams. And now, you're ready for a brand new challenge – a new step on your Slimming World journey.

Since Slimming World was founded in 1969, our friendly groups have helped millions of members – along with their families and friends – to lose weight and lead healthier, happy lives. The company has experienced consistent growth each year for the past 10 years, taking the brand to a clear leadership position in the UK and Ireland, and key to this success are our dedicated District Managers.

Dynamic, hard-working and empowering, our District Manager team embodies the company's positive and performance-orientated culture. If you'd love to combine a fulfilling management role with your genuine care for others, we'd love to hear from you.

“When I founded Slimming World in 1969, my imagination knew no bounds. My dream was to create an organisation that could really help people like me. People with a weight problem that was driving them mad. What I couldn't possibly have imagined was the sheer joy I would be privileged to experience as our company grew. If you've played a part in helping someone turn their dreams into reality, you can't help but share in that joy too.”

Margaret Miles-Bramwell OBE HonMUniv FRSA
Slimming World's Founder and Chairman

It's the perfect role if you're:

- a Slimming World member, past or present, who's attended a group for at least 12 weeks
- at or close to your final target weight
- already a senior manager with a proven track record in leading field-based teams to success
- committed to delivering exceptional service and support
- an organised, strategic thinker with an eye for detail, a strong people-focus and a sense of fun
- inspired by the chance to help people lose weight and change their lives

...and you believe wholeheartedly in Slimming World's vision, mission and methods.

As a District Manager, you'll receive a generous salary, target-related quarterly bonuses, a company car and healthcare package.

life as a District Manager

You'll be employed by Slimming World in a full-time position working from home. It's not a 9-to-5 job; to ensure we reach the millions of people in the UK and Ireland who are desperate for our help, our Consultants are committed to regular evening and weekend work – and they will thrive on your support at those times.

Within this special role, you will:

- make sure that every group has the benefit of a first rate Consultant and every Consultant has the benefit of a dedicated, passionate and supportive manager
- make sure that every Consultant under your care is equipped to deliver exceptional Slimming World service to their members every week
- develop the coverage of groups in your teams, to ensure we provide our service to as many people who need us as possible.

To help you achieve all this, you'll be superbly supported by an experienced and encouraging manager, and through full and ongoing training at the Slimming World Academy at our Head Office in Derbyshire.

“ At a time of huge expansion for Slimming World, high-quality field management teams have never been more important. As a company, our drive isn't growth for growth's sake. The success of Slimming World is – and always will be – rooted in our 100% commitment to members; on delivering the very best quality of service, the very best support, genuine care and understanding – and outstanding weight loss results. We only recruit District Managers who share this professional ethos. By working together in this way, the rewards are without comparison. ”

District Manager for East Scotland

“ I joined Slimming World as a member in 2004, losing 3 stones 8lbs. I felt amazing – on top of the world – and I wanted to let everyone know how amazing Slimming World is! So in 2006, I trained to be a Slimming World Consultant and opened a group alongside my job as a leisure manager in the health and fitness industry. The feeling of making a difference to people’s happiness was so rewarding and I loved how committed and supportive everyone within the company was, no matter what their role.

Working for Slimming World full-time felt like the next logical step, and the District Manager role married perfectly with my existing skills – so in 2011 I took the plunge, applied and got the job of my dreams in a company I love! The training and ongoing personal development I’ve experienced from day one has been second to none. It’s given me so much confidence and depth of knowledge, so I never feel I’m floundering – our focus is always clear and what we do is very well supported from all angles.

District Management requires plenty of hard work, and you really do get out what you put in. I love that the role is structured yet flexible, so it fits with family life too. I feel so proud and privileged to be leading such a conscientious, willing and positive team – the sky’s the limit! ”

District Manager Hampshire and the Isle of Wight

“ I was a senior manager when I joined Slimming World as a member in 2014. After losing 2st I became a District Manager supporting a team of seven managers, over 100 Consultants and 62,000 members.

I'm so proud to be part of Slimming World's life changing team

My job at Slimming World is the first time I've truly been able to combine a fulfilling, challenging management role with genuinely helping people to transform their lives. I love the variety and the flexibility of the District Manager role. Whether I'm running training sessions for my team, visiting local groups and supporting our Consultants to develop their service, recruiting new people to the team, or whizzing up to our Derbyshire Head Office for meetings, every day is different. It's hard work, but there's nothing more satisfying than having the opportunity to help a member to achieve their weight loss dreams, or to support one of our Consultants to develop their exciting new business. ”

the only way is up

Slimming World's ambitious, can-do culture means there are always opportunities to develop and progress beyond the District Management role – just like Melanie and Fiona.

Melanie Lea, Senior Development Manager

“My journey with Slimming World started 23 years ago, when I joined as a member and lost two stones. In 1996, I became a Consultant – and since then I've stepped up through local management to district management to my current role as a Senior Development Manager. To think I'm now responsible for strengthening our service to members across the whole of central East of England fills me with pride! I love the role and I work my socks off to give my teams all the support they need.”

Fiona Manwell, Senior Field Manager

“When I became a Consultant in 2010, I had my sights set on working my way up in this amazing company – and that's exactly what I've been enabled to do. Just four months into my Slimming World career, I'd resigned from my full-time job as a sales manager and was managing a team of Consultants – then shortly after, three teams. Next, I became a District Manager. . .then Senior Field Development Manager – and now I oversee Scotland, and the east of England as Senior Manager. It's been a really exciting few years and I love the fact that I get to work with so many managers to make every Slimming World group the very best it can be – ultimately, it's about helping every member who walks through our doors to achieve their dream weight. And that's a mission I feel very proud of.”
